Jojo'S Bizarre Adventure Edition

Shining Diamond

Wondrous item, rare (requires attunement)

A small, heart-shaped crystal that pulses with soft pink light. It grows warmer near damage or injury, as if responding to things that have been broken.

Restorative Touch

As an action, you can touch a creature or object and restore it toward a previous intact state.

- A creature regains 3d8 + your proficiency bonus hit points.
- Alternatively, you can end one of the following conditions on the creature: blinded, deafened, or poisoned.

The creature's wounds visibly mend and reform, restoring it to a recent prior state. This can include the restoration of lost or damaged body parts, provided the damage occurred within the last minute.

This feature has 3 charges and regains all expended charges daily at dawn.

Object Restoration

You can use Restorative Touch on an object instead of a creature.

- You can repair a nonmagical object that fits within a 5-foot cube, restoring it to an undamaged state.
- You can reassemble a broken object, provided all pieces are within 10 feet of each other.

If the object was destroyed within the last minute, you can restore it completely.

Reversal Pulse

Once per long rest, when you use Restorative Touch on a creature, you can redirect part of that restoration outward.

Choose a creature you can see within 30 feet that damaged the target since the end of your last turn. That creature takes 3d8 force damage as the damage partially rebounds upon it.

Limitations

- This item cannot restore a creature that has died.
- Restoration returns creatures and objects to a recent prior state, not an ideal or enhanced one.
